

Paramedic Lynn Nowak

EMT of the Year, 2008

Paramedic Lynn Nowak

Lynn Nowak has been married to Allan Nowak for 24 years. They have a son Joshua, age 23, and a daughter Holly, age 20. They have made Wake County their home since 1985.

Mrs. Nowak began her career at the Cary Area EMS as a volunteer in 1995. While volunteering at EMS and working full time she also attended Wake Technical Community College, graduating from their EMS program as a paramedic in 1996. She continues this certification as a volunteer paramedic for Cary Area EMS.

Mrs. Nowak is celebrating her fourteenth year with Cary Area EMS. She is one of two volunteer paramedics in Wake County. As the chief of this organization I feel this is remarkable. We are honored that Mrs. Nowak continues to dedicate her time, effort and energy to Cary Area EMS and to the patients she encounters.

Besides being a dedicated volunteer, Mrs. Nowak has provided Cary Area EMS with her knowledge and leadership. She is always willing to help Cary Area EMS whenever possible and is very good at those last minute requests for assistance.

Cary Area EMS and I have been the lucky recipients of her willingness to give her time, talents and experience. She has great clinical knowledge and skills, and is an excellent patient advocate. Mrs. Nowak is well respected by our staff and officers. Lynn Nowak is a caring and compassionate paramedic and I highly recommend her as the Cary Area EMS EMT of the year.
